

Victorian Employer Skills and Training Survey 2017

Loddon Mallee

Over 12,100 employers responded to the training and skills component of the Victorian Employer Satisfaction and Skills Survey in 2017. Of these, 1,055 were from the Loddon Mallee region. Employers report that skills are important to productivity, but many are facing challenges filling jobs and finding the right applicants with the right skills. These challenges are faced both now, and are expected to continue into the future. However, a high proportion of employers that access training to improve the skills of their workforce report a positive impact on productivity and return on investment. The statistics below reflect the experience of employers from the Loddon Mallee region compared to the overall Victorian average.

Skills are important to productivity

Businesses found that a lack of skills had a medium to high impact on workplace productivity.

Impact of insufficient workforce skills

A lack of skills can increase the workload for other staff, affect operating costs and resulted in poorer quality of service/products.
