Section B – Course information

3.1 Industry, education, legislative, enterprise or community needs

Standards 4.1, 5.1, 5.2, 5.3 and 5.4 for Accredited Courses

The course is designed to provide a pre-vocational VET pathway for senior secondary school students to pursue a career or further training in small business operations across different industry sectors.

The course provides an additional option in the school curriculum to prepare students for the world of work and meets a need not catered for in National Training Packages.

This course introduces learners to the fundamental skills and knowledge required in small business workplaces. Many schools operate social enterprises or have education partnerships with local small businesses providing authentic opportunities to experience work in small or micro businesses or to assist students in starting their own businesses whilst at school.

The Australian Bureau of Statistics defines a small business as employing fewer than 20 people. Micro businesses are small businesses with 0–4 employees.¹ Small businesses operating with a small team, rely on flexible, innovative, and broadly-skilled personnel.

Small and family businesses have a central emphasis on innovation and the need for flexible and responsive customer service.

This is the fifth reaccreditation of the course having first been accredited in 2004 as 21530VIC Certificate II in Small Business (Operations and Innovation).

Industry outlook

Australian small and medium enterprises (SMEs) represent about 97.5% of the total number of businesses in the country, equating to approximately 2.5 million businesses.² In 2020/2021, SMEs contributed approximately $425 billion (over 33% of the nation's economy) to the total Gross Domestic Product (GDP).³

In 2020-21, SMEs employed over 5 million people, representing 42% of the private sector workforce. In 2019, SMEs employed the highest number of trainees and apprentices (61% of the total). Based on predictions made by the Australian government, about 61,000 new apprentices and trainees will be employed in the next year.⁴

As of 30th June 2021, there were 639,425 small businesses in Victoria, representing 27% of all Australian small businesses (compared to 25% of the population that lives in Victoria).⁵

- 78% were based in greater Melbourne
- 21% in regional Victoria
- 1% other.

In 2021-22 there was a 10.9% increase in the number of businesses in Victoria, the largest percentage growth in any state/territory, with an increase of 71,444 to 726,839 in total.⁶

Victorian Course activity

The primary cohort for delivery of this course has been secondary school students as part of the VET Delivered to Secondary Students (VETDSS) arrangements. The Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority (VCAA) recognises the previous version of this course (22480VIC) in the VCE VET Small Business approved program, which has credit arrangements for senior secondary school certificates. Data gathered from the mid-cycle review in 2021 strongly supported the reaccreditation of this course. All 14 respondents to the provider survey believed the course met the training needs of the students, and all 64 respondents to the learner survey responded that the course met their training needs.

Victorian Enrolment data

In 2022, six Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) have the 22480VIC course on their scope of registration; three TAFEs, two school-based RTOs, and one private RTO. The RTOs serviced delivery to 609 students based in 35 different schools. VCE VET program enrolments have been consistent over the past five years and are expected to continue.

Consultation and validation

Course consultation and development involved extensive consultation with the PSC, including:

- analysis of the skills and knowledge requirements of the existing course and confirmation and agreement for new and emerging skills needs
- attendance at Project Steering Committee (PSC) meetings to review, discuss and confirm industry requirements of graduates, course content, course units and course structure
- additional PSC out-of-session input via email, telephone consultation, review and feedback on course content drafts
- review and consideration of alternative training package units for inclusion in the core and elective bank.

Industry support for the final redrafted material was confirmed through the endorsement and active participation of the PSC.

Standard 5.11 AQTF 2021 Standards for Accredited Courses5.2 Entry requirements*Standard 5.11 for Accredited Courses

Standard 5.11 AQTF 2021 Standards for Accredited Courses

Applicants for the 22629VIC Certificate II in Small Business Operations and Innovation: As a general guide, learners will be better equipped if they demonstrate capacity in learning, reading, writing, oracy and numeracy competencies to Level 2 of the Australian Core Skills Framework (ACSF). Learners with learning, literacy and numeracy (LLN) skills at a lower level may require additional support.

6. AssessmentStandard 5.12 and 5.14 AQTF 2021 Standards for Accredited Courses*6.1 Assessment strategy*Standard 5.12 for Accredited Courses

All assessments, including Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL), must be compliant with the requirements of:

Standard 1 of the AQTF: Essential Conditions and Standards for Initial/Continuing Registration and Guidelines 4.1 and 4.2 of the VRQA Guidelines for VET Providers,

or

Standard 1: Clauses 1.1 and 1.8 of the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (SRTOs) 2015

or

the relevant standards and Guidelines for RTOs at the time of assessment.

These standards assure that the assessment strategies meet the requirements of the course.

Assessment strategies must therefore ensure that:

- all assessments are valid, reliable, flexible and fair
- learners are informed of the context and purpose of the assessment and the assessment process
- feedback is provided to learners about the outcomes of the assessment process and guidance given for future options
- time allowance for completing a task is reasonable and specified to reflect the industry context in which the task occurs.

Assessment strategies should be designed to:

- cover a range of skills and knowledge required to demonstrate achievement of the course aim
- collect evidence on a several occasions to suit a variety of contexts and situations
- be appropriate to the knowledge, skills, methods of delivery and needs and characteristics of learners
- assist assessors in interpreting evidence consistently
- recognise prior learning
- be equitable to all groups of learners.

6. AssessmentStandard 5.12 and 5.14 AQTF 2021 Standards for Accredited Courses

All assessment activities must be consistent with the unit assessment requirements and relate to small business operations and innovation contexts. Holistic assessment reflecting realistic job tasks should be included where relevant.

Suitable assessment methods to consider include:

- work performance: structured observation/ demonstration and questioning using written checklists to collect evidence
- product: with a project plan, process and project final product with questioning
- projects: includes workplace project investigation and report or presentation and questioning using written checklists to collect evidence, (supported with case studies and workplace scenarios)
- portfolio: a collection of evidence such as observation of performance, project product, investigation, presentation and questioning.

Candidates must be assessed against the unit assessment requirements Evidence must be consistent with the unit assessment conditions and may be collected in the workplace or in a simulated work environment. A simulated environment should reflect realistic workplace conditions and equipment consistent with the small business operations and the industry sector.

Assessment strategies for imported units of competency from a training package should be consistent with the unit assessment requirements and information stated in the training package companion guide.

RTOs must ensure that recognition of prior learning (RPL) is offered to all applicants upon enrolment, and any units of competency achieved are recognised as credit.

There are no mandatory requirements for assessment in the workplace in this course.

6.2 Assessor competenciesStandard 5.14 for Accredited Courses

Assessment must be undertaken by a person or persons in accordance with:

Standard 1.4 of the AQTF: Essential Conditions and Standards for Initial/Continuing Registration and Guideline 3 of the VRQA Guidelines for VET Providers,

or

the Standards for Registered Training Organisations 2015 (SRTOs),

or

6. AssessmentStandard 5.12 and 5.14 AQTF 2021 Standards for Accredited Courses

the relevant standards and Guidelines for RTOs at the time of assessment.

Units of competency imported from training packages or accredited courses must reflect the requirements for assessors specified in that training package or accredited course.

7. DeliveryStandards 5.12, 5.13 and 5.14 AQTF 2021 Standards for Accredited Courses*7.1 Delivery modes*Standards 5.12 and 5.14 for Accredited Courses

This qualification aims to develop skills for entry-level jobs or further education. Units of competency may be delivered off or on the job or a combination of both. Where delivery occurs off the job, delivery conditions should reflect realistic workplace situations.

Delivery of units of competency imported from Training Packages should be contextualised to the small business operations and innovation industry sector, whilst ensuring that the delivery guidelines are adhered to.

The following rules apply for contextualisation:

- elements and associated performance criteria must not be altered in any way
- learning resources and assessment activities may be tailored to the specific needs of the learner group or workplace setting, while maintaining their validity.

Delivery of units of competency should take into consideration the individual needs of learners.

Modes of delivery may include:

- scheduled face-to-face group and/or individual sessions
